

Currency & its Types

In the last chapter, we learned the value of the currency and who prints it. How does our valid Indian currency note look like?

Every original Indian note will have

"Reserve Bank of India" written on top in English and Hindi language

The face of Mahatma Gandhi

The Value of the note written in figures and words

National Emblem of India at the bottom right area and

Now, Let's have a look at what our Indian Coins look like

Every original Indian coin will have

The Value of the Coin

The National Emblem
of India

Currency notes that stopped working after demonetisation.

Some other older currencies are still in circulation.

Let's have a look at those.

How to spot a fake note like an expert?

Look out for these signs in a note.

"Reserve Bank of India" is written thicker than usual

Printed lines that are broken and ink spreads

Thick watermarks

Fake security threads

Smaller or bigger number & inadequate gaps

Now, you can easily identify fake notes and safeguard yourself from getting fooled, is it's time that you should know about an effortless way to grow your money and keep it safe, let's learn more about it in the next chapter